Storyteller Tim Ralphs presents Rebranding Beelzebub

Tim Ralphs shines a spotlight on him downstairs as he imagines traditional devil folktales stitched into a new skin. This grand collection spans supermarket stalls, urban sprawls, body-snatching preachers and widow's sons. Recipes for coleslaw. The Lord's Prayer Backwards. The result is darkly humourous with disturbing turns.

His performances merge the contemporary with the ancient with enviable integrity and a touch of genius. – Crick Crack Club

From an award winning performance at Young Storyteller of the Year in 2007 to a British Award for Storytelling Excellence in 2012, to a sell out performance of Rebranding Beelzebub at The Bargehouse Festival of Fairytales 2013 - Tim Ralphs is one of the most innovative talents on the UK storytelling scene. He hosts The Story Forge in Sheffield, one of The Guardian's Life and Style's Ten great storytelling nights and is a firm believer in the power of the ancient art of storytelling to transport and delight modern audiences.

He comes to the Edinburgh Fringe Festival for the first time in 2014
